Further reduction of votes of the other shareholders is made in the order based on the number of votes held by particular shareholders participating in the Grouping (from the highest number to the lowest number). Further reduction of votes is made until the total number of votes held by the shareholders participating in the Grouping does not exceed 10% of the total number of votes in the Company,
- 3) if, for the purposes of the reduction referred to in points 1) or 2), it is not possible to set the order of the reduction of votes because two or more shareholders hold the same number of votes, the votes of shareholders holding the same number of votes shall be reduced proportionally, while fractions shall be rounded down to a full number of shares. For the rest, the rules specified in points 1) or 2) shall apply accordingly,
- 4) in any case, a shareholder, whose voting rights are limited, shall retain the right to exercise at least one vote,
- 5) limitation of exercising voting rights shall also apply to a shareholder who is not present at a General Meeting.

11. In order to establish the basis for aggregation and reduction of votes, each shareholder of the Company, the Bank's Management Board, the Bank's Supervisory Board and particular members of these bodies, as well as the Chairman of the General Meeting, can demand that the Company's shareholder who is subject to limitation of voting rights should provide them with information on whether it is a dominant entity or a subsidiary for any other shareholder of the Company, as defined in section 9. The right specified in the previous sentence includes also the right to demand disclosure of the number of votes held by a shareholder of the Company individually or jointly with other Company's shareholders, for whom it is a dominant entity or a subsidiary, as defined in section 9. 12. In case of doubts, the provisions concerning limiting the voting rights shall be interpreted according to Article 65(2) of the Civil Code.
